DISTRICTWIDE SCHOOL SAFETY TEAM TRAINING

San Ysidro School District will be sending numerous site administrators, psychologists, and campus office personnel to the five-course San Diego County Office of Education Diamond Safety Team Series the week of June 13-16.

The five-course Diamond Safety Team Series will take the school Diamond Safety Team on a journey packed with teamwork exercises designed to educate and explore the roles of each Diamond Safety Team member. This dynamic, but sensible approach to school safety will take participants through an actual case in which the application of a variety of prevention, intervention, and response techniques and protocols proved to be critical to the outcome of the case. The participant will leap past the theory phase of school safety and land in the fast-paced world of life-saving execution and decision-making. Topics will include but are not limited to: Threat Assessment; Building a Positive School Culture and Climate; Developing Effective Campus Security Teams; Options-Based Response Strategy; and Stop the Bleed certification course.
